UTAH STATE NEWS.

Pleasant Grove will be fifty years old on the 24th, and a grand celebration is proposed for that day.

A fund is being raised in Salt Lake for the relief of destitute relatives of miners killed in the recent explosion at Hanna, Wyo.

The business men of Ephraim have challenged the business men of Mantol for a match game of base ball to be played on the 24th.

Over a hundred members of the National Editorial association were entertained by the Utah editors the fore part of the week.

The people of Winter Quarters, who suffered as has the stricken camp at Hanna, Wyo., have raised for the people there the sum of $642.30.

The assessed valuation of Salt Lake county this year is $46,804,014, as against $42,672,517 in 1902, an increase of $4,131,494 for this year.

Six ministers belonging to as many denominations are holding open air meetings on the streets of Lehi in the evenings at the present time.

There is a shortage of store rooms in Salt Lake City, many men who wish to enter business being unable to find buildings in which to place their stock.

Two masked men held up a street car in Salt Lake City one night last week, securing $21 from the conductor and motorman, there being no passengers.

The grasshoppers have not been nearly so prevalent in Sanpete county this year as last, and this fact occasions much joy among the farmers of that section.

Work is to be commenced at once on the surveying and subdividing of the Uintah Indian reservation, so that the reservation may be opened October 1st of next year.

James Stewart, who shot his wife and killed himself at Idaho Falls, Ida., last week, was formerly a resident of Utah, he having lived in Lehi about fifteen years ago.

It is claimed that a creamery trust is in operation in Sevier county and that the attorney-general is investigating the case with the intention of prosecuting the guilty parties.

The wheat crop of the state is in most localities looking well, and while the yield will probably not be so large as last year, the acreage is greater, so that it will offset the loss.

Plans are being arranged by the friends of A. A. Robertson and Harry T. Duke, the two ex-officials of the Wells Fargo bank, now serving time in the state penitentiary, to secure a pardon for the two men.

Thomas F. Keef, alias Ed. W. Hamilton, suicided at the state prison by hanging himself with a bunk strap. It developed after his death that Keef comes of a good family and was formerly a highly respected business man.

Charles Gustafson of Sandy was perhaps fatally injured last week while attempting to stop a runaway team belonging to D. S. Wennerstrom of Sandy. The horses were being driven by the owner, and became frightened by firecrackers fired by small boys.

Tent caterpillars have invaded the mountains near Richfield. In the mountains east and west of Richfield thousands of them are found on the choke cherry and elder and service bushes and in places even on the sage brush.

The production of copper and lead in Utah during 1902 was: Copper, 25,954,026 fine pounds; lead, 119,629,441 fine pounds. Summit county produced the most lead, while Salt Lake county was the leader in the production of copper.

Henry Wagner, one of Utah's earliest settlers and who had been a successful brewer for many years, died in Salt Lake City Sunday after a long illness. He came to Utah in 1864 and established a brewery in Emigration canyon soon after his arrival.

On July 4th Joseph Shoell and Hanner White of Pleasant Grove quarreled over their respective rights to some waste water, with the result that Mr. White is bedfast with a sear in one ear and two ribs reported broken, and Mr. Shoell has been interviewed by the sheriff.

One of the most disastrous fires that has visited Ogden in years completely destroyed the plant of the Ogden woolen mills Saturday afternoon, entailing a loss of about $21,000. The fire was caused by a hotbox in the rag-picking machine.

The 12-year-old son of Mrs. Schurz, residing at West Ogden, came near bleeding to death as a result of a bad fall in the bottom of his foot, caused by stepping on a piece of glass. Prompt medical attention saved his life, unless lockjaw sets in.
